

Network Tenets

- The work of the network must be in the hands of its users
- All members matter and can contribute
- Core members of the network must be able to exercise veto power and keep control to preserve the networks' mission and values
- The network produces outcomes aligned with its values and mission

