WESTERN WATER & CLIMATE CHANGE

A PROJECT OF EXLOCO - PATHFINDING IN THE NEW WEST

April 28, 2009

Dear Kimery,

Population demands, climate change impacts, energy development and water use, ecosystem challenges, new infrastructure, transfers, legal reforms, and jurisdictional issues - these are some of the western water issues your colleagues will be covering at the 30th annual Western Water Law, Policy and Management Conference, June 3-5, at the University of Colorado.

Exloco's Carpe Diem - Western Water & Climate Change project has teamed up with the Natural Resources Law Center at the University of Colorado to offer a special registration fee for this 30th annual summer conference: Western Water Law, Policy and Management: Ripples, Currents, and New Channels for Inquiry. Friends of Exloco's Carpe Diem project receive a special registration fee of $100 for all three days of the conference.

The conference brings together key decision makers and issue leaders from across the West to review the challenges and emerging solutions to the most pressing water policy and management issues of the day. Speakers include Bureau of Reclamation Commissioner designate Mike Connor, and well known author Professor Robert Glennon.

Join us on June 3-5 on the University of Colorado campus in Boulder. Go to <http://www.colorado.edu/law/centers/nrlc/> and look for the 'Friends of Exloco' special registration fee.

I look forward to seeing you there!

Regards,

Kimery Wiltshire

Carpe Diem - Western Water & Climate Change

Through its network of more than 800 decision makers, Exloco's Carpe Diem - Western Water & Climate Change project is building the center for change - for smart, science-based pragmatic responses to the increasingly devastating impacts climate change will have on the West's water.

We are providing the means and opportunities for all of us to take those steps together with a common vision for a sustainable future. Please join supporters of Exloco's Carpe Diem project - your tax-deductible contribution will provide the critical support needed for this pioneering work.
